Who do you know that may be interested in joining your new community?
Who do you know that would make a good team member and support your brand as it grows?

What's the goal for your community?

What are some of the values that you'd like your flock members to have in common?

Who has created a community that you enjoy? Consider asking to have coffee together (even if it's just virtually) to talk about the community building process.

Who might make a good co-host of your flock? How would you complement each other's businesses?

Be Vigilant: Problems to Watch for When Growing Your Flock

Consider	Share Your Thoughts
How do you plan on keeping your community focused on the positive?
Have you outgrown your flock? What did you do when that happened?
Think about the community you're building. Are you excited to serve these members?

About The Author

Alicia Bowyer created Christian Women's Corner after talking to a good friend one day. They discussed how hard it was to keep up with daily prayer, Bible reading, and telling others about Jesus who didn't share their faith. She knew that some might not struggle with these three things, but many do.

She wanted to take the knowledge that she gained from over 40 years on her Christian walk and help others.

Alicia lives in Barrie, Ontario, Canada, with her family, whom she loves dearly.
